72 to Graduate Monday At Hill Commencement

Honorary Degrees to Be Conferred Upon Six Candidates

MERRITT TO BE M.A.

Clark Prize Oration Change Is Only Alteration of Week-end Program

Climaxing four days of Commencement week-end activities, Hamilton will graduate its 129th class Monday morning at 10. 72 students will be candidates for Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degrees, while Frank Westley Merritt, '39, will be a candidate for the degree of Master of Arts.

Six Honorary Degrees

Honoring the Reverend John H. Gardner, '16, president of the Society of Alumni, with the degree of Doctor of Divinity, the College will also confer honorary degrees upon James E. West, Charles Harwood, '02; James Albert Winans, '97; Miss Alice Van Vechten Brown, and Clayton Halsey Sharp, '92.

Main change in the program is the shifting of the annual Clark Prize Oration Contest, usually held Sunday evening, to Saturday afternoon at 2:30. The change has been made in order that more alumni may attend, as well as to leave early Sunday evening open for fraternity meetings.

Trustees Begin Activities

The program began at three this afternoon with the annual Commencement meeting of the Board of Trustees, continuing at four with the McKinney Prize Declamation Contest. The meeting of the Alumni Council, executive body of the Society of Alumni, was held at 4:30 in Truax Hall. "Ways and Means", a Noel Coward play, was presented at 8:30 in Commons by the Charlatans, with the Senior Ball at 10 this evening ending the program for Friday.

Pentagon Honors Dickson, Juniors

Five new members of Pentagon from the junior class and Dean of Students Campbell Dickson were tapped by the outgoing member at Moving Up Day ceremonies during the final chapel service of the year May 30. Members tapped from the Class of 1942 were Nelson C. Dale, Jr., Robert L. Henry, Ralph W. Leavenworth, Jr., Arthur H. Naylor, Jr., and Thomas F. O'Donnell.

Dean Dickson, who joined the Hamilton faculty in the spring of 1940, was tapped by retiring Governor John T. Symes. He is the seventh member of the present faculty and administration to be honored by the senior society, other members being President William H. Cowley, Secretary of the College Wallace B. Johnson, Dean of the Faculty Frank H. Ristine, Professor Emeritus Arthur P. Saunders, Professor Emeritus William P. Shepard, and Director of Athletics Albert I. Prettyman.

Tapping, according to tradition, was done by the retiring members with the new members selected in alphabetical order.

First undergraduate tapped, Nelson Clark Dale, Jr., is captain of the 1941-42 Hamilton hockey team, president of the student council, a letterman in football, hockey, and tennis, a member of the choir, and president of the Hamilton chapter of Sigma Phi fraternity. A member of Quadrangle, D. T., and Was Los, he is the son of Professor Nelson C. Dale.

Robert L. Henry is one of the few two-year captains in college history. Elected to lead the Hamilton basketball team during his junior year, he has been reelected to captain the team during the next season. A letterman in baseball, he was a member of the football squad during the 1939 season, and is pianist in the Glen Lane orchestra. He also was accompanist for the Buff and Blue Review, benefit performance for the baseball team's spring training trip. He was chosen for Quadrangle, D. T., and Was Los. He is a mem-

Carnegie, South Will Be Rebuilt; Other Repairs Planned

7 NEW TEACHERS

Five Present Members of Faculty Receive Promotions

The appropriation of $150,000 of college funds to improve all Hamilton buildings during the summer; seven new faculty appointments, and five promotions of present faculty members were announced by President William H. Cowley at 8:30 tonight following the annual Commencement meeting of the Board of Trustees this afternoon.

$45,000 on South

The $150,000 which the Board decided to spend from its funds will be used to effect some much needed renovations in the college plant. Approximately $45,000 will be spent on improving the interior of Carnegie Hall and an equal amount on South College. New plumbing, wiring, and boilers will be installed and the buildings will be painted. A new feature to be brought about by the renovation of the dormitories will be student lounge rooms at each entrance of the dormitories.

Many other improvements are to be made during the summer.

"The most spectacular rise of any college fund in the country," was President Cowley's comment at 8:30 tonight as he announced that the Hamilton Alumni Fund now stands at $25,361.53. 1,403 alumni have subscribed to the fund, and have far exceeded the original goal of $20,000.

The increase represents one of 300 per cent over that of last year, and almost 600 per cent over that of 1937-38.

President Cowley, calling the program "the greatest alumni fund drive in any American college," said the fund will undoubtedly go even higher before the end of the summer, with late contributions coming in. Last circular of the drive will be mailed Monday, he said.

Renovations begun last summer in Benedict Hall of Languages will be completed. Eight new offices, a phonetics laboratory, and new wiring are among the improvements to be made in this building.

Root Hall Improvement

The renovation of Root Hall begun during the summer of 1939 will be completed. New offices, a lecture room, and rooms to house the new Art Department will be established. A new roof will be put on the Russell Sage Building and painting will be done in most of the buildings.

In regard to the faculty, the Board of Trustees voted increases in faculty salaries totalling approximately $6,500. Various promotions were made. Dr. George L. Nesbitt, Associate Professor of English, was advanced to a full professorship, while Dr. Henry Janzen of the Political Science Department was promoted from an Assistant to an Associate Professorship. Wentworth Dresser Fling, Instructor in Romance Languages, Dr. Otto Karl Liedke, Instructor in German, and Dr. Philip V. Rogers, Instructor in Biology, were all advanced to the rank of Assistant Professor.

Seven new appointments and two re-appointments to the college faculty were also voted by the Board. Dr. Karl With, now of the

Merritt to Receive Degree on Monday

Frank W. Merritt, '39, will receive the degree of Master of Arts at commencement exercises Monday. Merritts's major is in English Literature, which he has studied under Mr. Rudd, and his minor is in Phonetics, which he has studied under Mr. Fling.

Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., he prepared for college at Saranac Lake High School and, after working with the American Surety Company, he entered Hamilton in the class of 1939.

While at Hamilton, Merritt was undergraduate chairman of the first Student Publications Board, editor of the Royal Gaboon, a member of Pi Delta Epsilon and Delta Sigma Rho, and president of the Hamilton chapter of Delta Upsilon. He was graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors. He has served for two years as instructor in the Public Speaking department, and next year will teach some of the upper class courses in Public Speaking. Eventually he plans to continue with graduate work in speech.

The title of Mr. Merritt's thesis for the degree of Master of Arts was "John Milton on England and Englishmen".

Clark Prize Oration Contest on Saturday

Six members of the class of 1941 will vie for the prize of $50 offered to the winning speaker in the Clark Prize Oration Contest to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the College Chapel.

This contest, begun in 1855 by Aaron Clark with an endowment of $1,000, has been held every year at Commencement, this making the 86th consecutive program.

The seniors participating in the contest have composed original speeches, as is the custom, and will give them from memory. The speakers appear in alphabetical order and their topics are: Maurice C. Clifford, "Dunkerque"; Albert B. Hooke, "The Challenge of the Americas"; Lester J. Start, "Men or Brutes?"; John T. Symes, Jr., "The Uprooted Millions"; Robert W. Towner, "Democracy's Strongest Weapon"; John T. Underwood, "The Japanese, the Smothered People".

Judges for the contest, all alumni, are: Prof. James A. Winans, '97, Dartmouth College; Warren I. Lee, '99, New York; John P. Gualtieri, '25, Rome; Peter B. Daymont, '26, Utica; Jefferson T. Meagher, '31, Binghamton.

New officers of the Hamilton College chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, were elected follow ing the facultoy meeting Tuesday afternoon. Professor George L. Nesbitt is president; Professor James Dealey, Jr., vice-president; and Professor Thomas M. Johnston, secretary-treasurer. Wentworth D. Fling was elected as marshal, and Dr. Lewis N. Stieg was named to the membership committee.

Charlatans Present Coward and Strauss

The Charlatans presented a one-act comedy entitled "Ways and Means" in the Hall of Commons tonight at nine p. m. preceeding Senior Ball. The play was taken from Noel Coward's group of one-act plays, "Tonight at 8:30".

The comedy, hich lasted about three-quarters of an hour, was produced and directed by the students, and was an indication of what the Charlatans are capable of doing, unaided by the faculty. The student director was Wally Godard, president of Charlatans, and Bob Scott, stage manager, supervised the work of the stage crew.

The Charlatans used this play to preview other one-act plays by Noel Coward to be given next year. The student dramatists also previewed the atmosphere of the Senior Ball by dimming the overhead lights in Commons, and by playing Strauss waltzes during intermission.

The cast of the play included Stella, Tom Adams; Toby, Otis Bigelow; Stevens, J. Reeves; Olive, Matt McCollough; Princess, Art Ward; Nanny and Gaston, Bob McDermott; Murdoch, Steve Walker; Chaps, Bill Selligman.

Tom Adams, Hilltop primadonna, starred tonight with long eyelashes, painted fingernails, and turban. Another feminine lead, Matt McCullough, caught the eye of the spectators.

Honor Court Appoints Two New Members; One Yet Open

Willard B. Eddy, Jr., out-going Chairman of the Honor Court, announced the election of two new members of the student tribunal in Chapel Wednesday morning, May 28. Eddy also announced that Charles A. Godsell, Jr., '42 is the new chairman of the court.

Alexander R. Hamilton, '43 and William M. Bristol, 3rd, '43, the new appointees, bring the number on the Court up to five. A member of the class of 1945, to be selected next fall, will round out the membership of the tribunal.

The Honor Court has been active this year in publicizing the rules and purposes of its organization, and has not found it necessary to convict any student for violation of the honor pledges.

Marking Time

No Marking Time Here, Summer Jobs And How We Can All Get Rich

Looking back over the news of the year, we've come to the conclusion that one institution in Oneida County hasn't been marking any time during the past academic ten months. We refer to Hamilton College, where a new gymnasium, a renovated curriculum, a pilot training plan, a spring baseball trip, cars for juniors, and numerous other innovations went in during 1940-41.

We wish to cheer all the follows who have heard Uncle Sam's call, with three silent "Hamiltons" and a whisper. Not knowing upon just whom the draft board finger will land next, we can't really open up and raise the roof, but we wish them all the best of luck, cool weather for drill, rapid promotion, and something to ride in besides wheelbarrows marked "tanks."

Summer jobs will keep many in shape for something or other, with such employment as Wally Godard's on "El Rancho de Dias Alegres," in New Mexico, Wu's studying at Columbia, Spook's contribution to national defense working up in Bell Aircraft, and others.

There's one summer job—and it's not a job at all—that we certainly don't envy. Frank Child, nemesis of pedestrians with the two-wheeled wonder, took off for home (Port Jefferson, L. I., via Boston on the trusty cycle this morning. Frank figures his tour will take about two weeks or so, and plans on spending about a dollar a day.

With all this talk about combining Life and the Gaboon, we make an observation based on the past two issues of our cousin publication. The house party issue carried a story by one member of our staff, while the current production reprints a story originally published in Life in February. Notwithstanding this, we believe that The Gaboon is definitely on the way up, and wish Jim Knight and the staff the best of luck.

One freshman came through with an idea a while ago that we pass on without observation. "Why," he queried us, "doesn't the college build a munitions factory around here someplace and let students work in it during free hours, afternoons, and in other spare time? We could make some money ourselves, the college could pile up a little for a rainy day, and we certainly would be distributing to national defense." The administration has not been approached for comment.

The time has come, a rolling stone, grass on the other side of the fence, and other old adages may fit, but we'll just say toot-toot 'til the leaves begin dropping, and the Chapel bell has those hourly spastic fits agoin.

ADVICE

According to tradition, Life offers a few parting words of advice each year to the graduating class. This year, with force crushing people after people, with economic life becoming more and more complex with each passing day, and with prospects of worse international conditions yet to come, we give to the Class of 1941 one counsel.

This counsel is one that Hamilton has followed during the past three years—it is one that has given the College a new prestige and a new hope for both the present and the future. It is a counsel followed in baser form by the dictatorships—that of progress. Hamilton, however, has progressed for humanity; the dictatorships have progressed, if one can use that word, against humanity.

Now, members of the Class of 1941 are leaving behind them the aid and drive furnished by the College. No more will they be compelled to attend classes, rush to Chapel services, turn in papers on time, and sign the Honor Pledge. They will be on their own, and their progress will in large measure be determined by their individual skill, purpose, knowledge, and honesty.

This may be the time for sentiment—the time of finishing four years of fellowship, study, play, and comparatively carefree life. After Monday morning, however, these days will be behind, and one chapter in the lives of 72 seniors will be written. Then will come the time for the members of the Class of 1941 to discover what progress thev can make by themselves.

THE OLD ORDER

With one more year packed away in the college ledgers, recorded in Hamilton Life, and inscribed in scholarship books, we can look back with a bit of nostalgia and say, "Things happened this year that the class of '45 will never see."

For instance, will we ever forget, and will new men ever see anything like the dedication of the new Alumni Gymnasium? The climax of years of effort and campaigning finally were realized when the last rock was blasted from the Clinton quarry.

And next year's men will never experience a class with Professor Bonham. The famous lectures, rainbow notebooks, and multi-colored maps pass with the "Colonel". Present undergraduates have had that; new men won't.

"I must remain at Hamilton." Words that will go down in Hilltop history. Easily the highlight of the year, we doubt whether a duplicate will come again.

Cars for juniors. The result of a long series of Hamilton Life and R. S. White propaganda, the can plan passed this year to our delight. Future juniors will not realize the effort necessary; they will have cars, but will forget who worked to get them.

And so, as the old Roman said, "Tempus fugit." And as Will said, "The old order changeth."

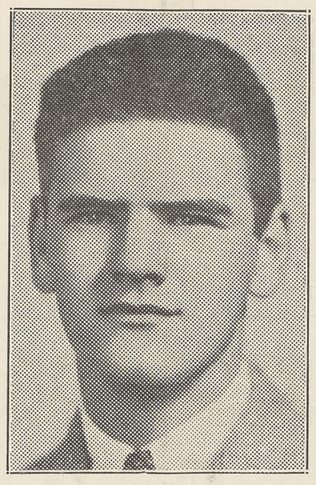
"Class Spirit '41"



W. Wallace Aitchison, '41

Aitchison Wins Saunders Prize

"The best piece of student writing of the year" were the words used by Professor Robert Barnes Rudd to describe the poem, "Class Spirit, '41" by William Wallace Aitchison, '41, which won the William Duncan Saunders Prize of $200.

Aitchison, an English Literature major, has been developing his ideas for the poem since Christmas, and finally composed the manuscript in two days time, while wandering through Root's Glen. The poem is about 150 lines long, and will be printed as a supplement to the Commencement program.

Aitchison, who considers his poem most like the poems of Robert Frost, used as a theme the question uppermost in the minds of every graduating senior, the question of what the world is like after college days.

When asked what he plans to do with the prize money, Aitchison said that it all depends upon whether or not he will enter the army in July. If he is conscripted, he plans to take a trip to the Gaspe Peninsula before doning his army clothes, and if he is exempted from duty, he will begin a collection of classical victrola records, besides buying a reproduction of a Breughel painting.

The prize, offered by Mrs. Edward Wales Root and Alexander Woollcott, '09, is given in memory of William Duncan Saunders, who died while a freshman in the class of 1925. The prize is presented at the graduation ceremonies.

Aitchison's manuscript, submitted along with about 20 other compositions, was judged the best piece of undergraduate writing of the year by Professor Robert B. Rudd, Professor Paul A. Fancher, Mr. Edward W. Root and Professor Thomas McN. Johnston.

Inscription in the lobby of the Mills college music building reads: "Such as the music is, such are the people of the commonwealth."

There are two George Strebels—father and son—enrolled in the engineering defense training course being given by Cornell University College of Engineering.

Webermen Finish Mediocre Season

This season the Hamilton baseball team, in winning three out of ten games, showed remarkable promise of what is to come. The sophomore additions showed us that we may expect more players of the caliber of Petronio, Captain Williams, Les Young and Jim Henderson. Infielders Gibbon and Lattin proved that Hamilton may have a better than average infield in years to come. Although errors were made on the left side of the infield, these two sophs covered their territories far better than any other combine has in years.

With Henry's loss to the outfield forces, the infield was bolstered and the outfield weakened. Coach Weber soon overcame this difficulty by inserting Rod Smith in center and flanking him with Donovan and Towner. Mac Bristol, Pete Ogilby, and Johnny Miller were at times substituted in left field, but the outfield was still spoty. Brilliant plays were frequently followed by blunders, and this is shown by the low earned-run averages contrasted with the great number of runs scored against the Continentals.

The season started with a road trip to Pennsylvania where the team suffered a double defeat at the hands of Swarthmore and Haverford. The Swarthmore game would have been a victory had it not been for misplays made at the wrong times. On returning, the team lost to Union and Hartwick, before finally hitting the victory road against Albany State College by a score of 11-0. In this game, the pitching was excellent, fielding faultless, the hitting vicious. Team followers thought that, since the game was played away, the team had finally gained its stride and would show a better brand of ball. R. P. I. made Hilltoppers think twice when they defeated the Buff and Blue by a one run margin. Once again the fault was with the fielding and not the pitching or hitting. Rochester defeated Hamilton batsmen in another close game, and then the team from Albany came again. After this game the batting averages soared to the highest point shown during the season. The next game was at Rochester and due to a bad start was a four run defeat.

In the season's finale, the team played against Drew and showed the finest ball seen in many a moon here on the Hill. The game was close enough to keep all of the spectators in the stands until the final out was made. The team was behind the pitcher all the way.

Butch Petronio's loss in the catcher's spot, a position which he has held down for the past three years, will be hard felt. His fielding average of 1,000 out of seventy-four chances proves his ability.

Captain Jack Williams, who tied with Petronio for batting laurels, played fine ball throughout the season dispite the bad luck that befell the team. Hampered by an early season injury, Jack soon regained his form and became the spark plug of the infield.

Both Jim Henderson and Les Young pitched "Baseball Joe" ball throughout the season despite their poor support. Henderson's earned run average of 2.673 and Young's of 3.692 show good work throughout the season.

NO MATTER HOW WE LOOK at it, we feel quite sure that we'll all miss Coach Art Winters and his ever-cheerful attitude. In tribute to what he has done for Hamilton, we wish him the best of luck in all his endeavors. Too much cannot be said in his favor. We hate to see you go, Coach.

JIMMY BRADDOCK, ERSTwhile champ, says that Billy Conn can lick Joe Louis June 18. Conn has all it takes to win the championship by a decision, says Braddock. We say that unless Conn has it in him to take the championship, there isn't a fighter yet who will dethrone the Brown Bomber. Conn will be the best fighter yet to face Joe Louis in his bum-of-the-month campaign.

THE HAMILTON NINE, CAPtained by Jack Williams, pulled a fast one on Drew in their annual tilt. Coming from behind, the Continentals tallied four time on four hits in the seventh. Jannone, better known as a track star, tripled and Jack Williams homered to sew up the game in the seventh.

TED WILLIAMS, RED SOX slugger, has a fine chance of being the first .400 hitter in the majors since Bill Terry edged into the circle in 1930. You notice nowadays that Ted is no longer quarreling with his teammates. He is too busy using the stick.

WE WANT TO ADVISE THE future Hamilton gridiron stars to keep in some sort of training over the summer. By the looks of things they will have plenty to do when they come back in the fall. Coach Evashevski promises a lot of tackling and blocking.

ONE OF THE BEST PERFORmances in golfdom was Craig Wood's capturing of the National Open Golf crown. Paid off in full for long years of golfing hard luck, Wood became the outstanding golfer of the year.

HAMILTON COMPLETED ITS first year of use of the new gym, and beyond a shadow of a doubt everyone was pleased with the added facilities. As a center of attraction for sub-freshmen, the gym proved quite useful. Only favorable remarks were heard.

NOT MUCH HAS BEEN heard recently of the flash pitcher Buck Newsome except that he's being knocked out of the box often.

OVERHEARD DURING THE Section B and C High School track meet last Saturday was this passing remark: "This is the best track I've run on since the season started. I ran at Colgate, Syracuse, and Cazenovia, and this is the best track yet." We wonder how many have noticed this feature of Hamilton College?

Gelasmen Win Three, Drop Two This Year

The Hamilton College tennis team brought its schedule to a good close this year with three matches won and two lost.

Although seven games were scheduled, two of them were cancelled because of rain. The team played Hobart, Colgate, Union, St. Lawrence, and Rochester. It defeated Hobart 5-4, Union 6-3 and St. Lawrence 6-1. Colgate won a decisive victory over Hamilton 11-1, while Rochester's 5-4 win over the Continentals was a hairline decision.

The doubles teams were the forte in Hamilton's playing. Once, at the end of the singles in the match with Hobart, Hamilton was behind 4-2. In order to win the team had to take all three doubles matches. Hamilton won 5-4. A similar situation arose and was aptly handled by the doubles teams in the match with Union.

Asked to comment on individual players Coach Gelas said, "They're all good to me".

Bill MacLenathen captained the tennis team this year and Phil Goulding, '43, is next year's captain.

"The freshman tennis team was much better as a whole this year than the average squad of previous years; it has no stars, but it is well-balanced," said Coach Gelas when asked about the yearlings. The freshmen had five matches scheduled, lost two to Colgate, 7-0 and 7-1, but defeated Manlius School and the Utica Free Academy 6-1 and 11-3.

ALL-STAR TEAM

By Jim Metz

To promote more interest in interfraternity sports, Hamilton Life has selected an All-Interfraternity softball team, choosing the outstanding players who have shown the greatest all-round ability on the diamond and who have also shown the best team interest and sportsmanship.

Three players from the champion Emerson Literary Society aggregation are on the team: George Fetter, pitcher; Pete Sacket, first base; and Bob Fay, second base. Fetter was easily the best hurler in either league, mixing a fast ball with a tantalizing floater that had the batters confused. Sacket had class A competition from Larry Goldbas, Squire Buff first sacker, but slightly overshadowed Goldbas in ability and ease on the playing field. Fay, one of the two bang-up shortstops, was shifted from his usual post to the keystone. His fielding and hitting ability made any second-baseman in either league look silly.

Ed Abbey, Chi Psi, had a slight edge on Fay at the shortstop post, where he robbed batters of sure hits and offensively had a close to .500 batting average. Phil Sheridan, Delta Kappa Epsilon, gets the hot corner position from Vince Hockmeyer, Sigma Phi, on his good work in fielding.

The other end of the battery job is handed to Marse Rotundo, spark-plug of the runner-up Squire Buffs, who also contributed a great catching job and some timely hitting. Other teams had good backstops—Godsell of Chi Psi; Julie of Sigma Phi; and Naylor of Emerson Literary Society—but Rotundo came out first by a long-shot.

One of Rotundo's teammates managed to get the short-field post in a close duel. Perry Pindar and Bill Barnes, Tau Kappa Epsilon, were almost on a par, but Pindar's faster starting enabled him to cover more ground. Both are good hitters.

In the outfield, Sunny Dale, Sigma Phi, is awarded left field; Bill Weeden, Delta Upsilon, center field; and Bob Hall, Theta Delta Chi, right field. All three are sure fielders, and both Dale and Weeden are consistent hitters. Hall, although not a long hitter, plops timely hits into short field, and his unerring fielding ability won him the post over Dick Bagg, Sigma Phi. Weeden, a fast ground coverer, was shifted from his usual short-field spot to the center garden, while Hall was transferred from left field.

The lineup of the All-Interfraternity team would be:

Pindar, Squires Buffs, short field.
Sacket, Emerson Literary Society, first base.
Fay, Emerson Literary Society, second base.
Abbey, Chi Psi, shortstop.
Weeden, Delta Upsilon, center field.
Rotundo, Squires Buffs, catch.
Sheridan, Delta Kappa Epsilon, third base.
Hall, Theta Delta Chi, right field.
Fetter, Emerson Literary Society, pitcher.

A. D. Phis, Emersonians Win Track, Ball Crowns

By Jim Metz

The spring interfraternity sport championships in both track and softball were decided just before exams with Alpha Delta Phi retaining its track crown by 2½ points over Chi Psi, and Emerson Literary Society turning back the defending champion Squire team by a 11-8 count.

George Fetter, Lit hurler, was the outstanding player of the softball final, completely baffling the Squire batters and forcing them to pop out to the infield.

The League B champions teed off on Vince Cardone's offerings in the opening stanza to chase five runs across. The Lits never relinquished that lead, adding three runs each in the fifth and sixth innings. The Squires did not connect with Fetter's serves until the last chukker, when they doubled their score.

With one out and three on, Clyde Moon grounded to short, but no bases were covered and one run scored. Shulman flied out to left field and another run scored after the catch. Perry Pindar then grounded one right over third base for a double, and two runs scored. Snuffy Smith walked, and Cardone popped out to third to finish the game.

To earn the right to meet Emerson Literary Society in the finals, Chi Psi, Sigma Phi, and the Squire Buffs had to play off their three way tie in League A. The Squires drew a bye for the first round, and Chi Psi defeated Sigma Phi 13-7 in their second meeting. In the League A finals, the Squires defeated the Chi Psi's by a score of 8-6, scoring their winning margin on an error in the last inning.

In the other games remaining, Alpha Delta Phi defeated Theta Delta Chi 13-8, and the Lambda Chi Alpha-Psi Upsilon encounter was not played.

The final standings in the Leagues are:

League B	Won	Lost
Emerson Literary Society	5	0
Delta Kappa Epsilon	3	2
Tau Kappa Epsilon	2	3
Theta Delta Chi	2	3
Alpha Delta Phi	2	3
Squires Blues	1	4
League A
Squires Buffs*	5	1
Chi Psi*	5	2
Sigma Phi*	4	2
Psi Upsilon	1	3
Delta Upsilon	1	4
Lambda Chi Alpha	0	4

*Includes League championship playoff games.

Without taking a first place in any event, the Alpha Delts placed enough men in third and fourth positions to outscore the Chi Psi's 37-34½. Pete Hatch led the victors with a tie for second and three thirds to chalk up 11½ points.

Sigma Phi took four firsts and a tie to boost its score to 32 points and third place, while Theta Delta Chi came in fourth with 25 points. Bill Coleman, the meet's high-scorer, came through with firsts in the mile, 880, and 440, plus a third in the 120 low hurdles to garner 18 points, pushing the Squires into fifth place. Strong in the running events, the Squires did not add one point in the field events for a total of 24.

In order behind the leaders came Psi Upsilon, 17½; Delta Kappa Epsilon, 15; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 10½; Delta Upsilon, 9½; Emerson Literary Society, 5; and Lambda Chi Alpha, 0.

Lettermen Pick Spring Captains

Varsity lettermen in baseball, tennis and golf elected captains for their respective teams during the past week. The captain of the track team will be choosen over the week-end or early next fall.

Rodney W. Smith, '42, letterman for two years, was elected captain of the Hill nine for the 1942 season. Smith has also played varsity basketball for two years, and was chosen for Quadrangle and tapped for D. T.

Philip G. Goulding, '43, will head the tennis squad next season, as one of the few juniors in the history of the college to fill a captaincy. Goulding was also a member of the freshmen tennis team last year.

Philip Sheridan, '42, newly elected captain of the golf team, will fill the vacancy created by the graduation of Dick Geer, 1941 captain. Sheridan won his letter in golf last year, and played regularly as number four man on the team this year.

Linksmen Win Five; Geer, Johnson Star

The 1941 golf team captained by Dick Geer wound up the year with five victories and three defeats. Bill Johnson, sixth man on the team, proved almost invincible as he went the whole season undefeated until the next to final match with Union.

On April 29, a Colgate team with two weeks of practice behind them took over the continental linksters 6-3. George Gilmore, Hamilton number two man, had the low round of the day, 66.

The losing string was still unbroken after a fine team from Syracuse took the measure of the Buff and Blue, 7-2.

With more practice and two matches under its belt the team won four matches in a row. Union, Rochester, St. Lawrence, and Army went down successively in that order. Captain Geer's excellent playing in all four matches aided greatly in the teams winning streak. In one match he sank a 150 yard approach shot for an eagle deuce on the second hole.

Playing under adverse weather conditions, the linksters were defeated at Union 8-1. None of the golfers were playing well except for Captain Geer, who continued his winning streak.

In the final match of the year, the team journeyed to Rochester to try its luck against a team which it had defeated earlier in the season. The match was played over the Oak Hill east course, but the tricky greens and frequent streams failed to daunt the Hillmen, and they triumphed, 6-3.

Discus Mark Set; Jannone Excells

In their last season under the mentorship of Coach Art Winters, the Hamilton College track team participated in four inter-collegiate meets, coming out victorious in one, the final meet with Rochester. The results of the season are:

Hamilton 59 2-3, Union 66 1-3; Hamilton 59, R. P. I. 67; Hamilton 37 3-4, Wesleyan 87 1-2, Trinity 28 3-4; Hamilton 73, Rochester 58.

Both the team as a whole and the individual members showed remarkable improvement as the season progressed. The Wintersmen lost a close meet with Union at the beginning of the year but defeated Rochester's powerful team in the final meet after Rochester had beaten Union.

Dit Beardslee, '42, hurled the discus slightly more than 128 feet to break the record of 123 feet set in 1935. No other records were broken, but several were approached. Melzar Richards, who improved his distance by nine feet in the shot put, came within a foot of breaking the record in that even with a toss of 41 feet 8 inches. Milt Jannone, outstanding ace of the team, unofficially broke the hundred yard dash record on a windy day. Jannone made almost half of the team's points in one meet and was always counted on for places in the dashes and every field event. Captain Bill Eddy captured his share of the firsts in the 440 and 880-yard runs, while the Underwood twins turned in good performances in the mile and two mile runs. Frank Leonard, who has also improved greatly this year, hurled himself over the bar at 11 feet consistently in the pole vault and took a number of firsts.

Freshmen Have Meet

The freshmen this year journeyed to Rochester with the varsity and were defeated. There was a lack of support in the freshmen team because of a small turnout, but several men are outstanding and should do much to assist the varsity next year. Bill Coleman in particular, has made a name for himself with his 4:54 mile—a time better than most varsity opponents can boast of.

Nine Nips Drew; Young Whifs Five

With Capt. Jack Williams rocketing out a long homer in the seventh with one on, the Continentals completed their baseball season with a 6-4 win over Brothers College of Drew University May 31.

Hamilton trailed the Brothers going into the seventh, 4-2, but made four runs on four hits in that inning to put the game in the blue. Bob Henry singled to start the ball rolling, went to second on Johnnie Gibbon's sacrifice, and scored on Les Young's single. Rod Smith then swung at three and Milt Jannone, left fielder who had just checked in his track spikes, rifled a triple to right to tie up the score. Williams' homer, scoring himself and Jannone, iced both the game and Hamilton's scoring.

Drew Opens Attack

Drew started its own blitzkrieg early in the game as Winch, third baseman and lead-off man, singled a sharp ball to center. Davidson followed with another single to the same place, Winch going to third. Winch came home on the same play as the toss from the outfield went past Williams; Davidson went to third. He came in on a sacrifice fly to center.

The Webermen, hitless for the first two innings, scored in the third when Johnnie Gibbon laid his second home run of the season out in the left field swamp. Drew chalked up another in the fourth and completed the circuit for another in the seventh. The other Hilltop run came in the fifth when Gibbon singled, advanced to second on an error, went to third on Les Young's fly to right, and scored on Rod Smith's single.

"Toe" Double Play

In the fifth inning, Jim Donovan hit a line drive to pitcher Stan. The ball bounced off Stan's toe, rolled to Drew shortstop Davidson. He shot the ball to second base, forcing out Rod Smith, and second baseman Newcomb relayed the ball to first in time to catch Donovan.

The Continentals took ten hits from Drew pitchers Stan and Winch, while 11 Hillmen went out on strikeouts. Les Young scattered 10 Drew hits over nine innings and struck out five.

Former Boy Scouts Meet, Plan Program

Hamilton undergraduates who had been affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America before entering college met May 29 at the Psi Upsilon house and elected Robert Small, '43, David Rosencrans and Robert Hall, both '44 as a steering committee for Scouts activities next year.

The meeting had been suggested by Harold Brawn of the National Scout office while he was visiting the Hill this spring. The objectives of the meeting were to bring students back in touch with scouting and its progress since they had ceased being active members, and to show the students the opportunities that were open to them as Scout leaders after their graduation.

Dale Reed, local scout executive, spoke and told the group about the progress of scouting in recent years; his remarks were centered about leadership, camping, and Cub Scout work.

Orrin Gould of Utica showed a motion picture stressing the benefits of scouting with relation to the youth of the community, and George Walper, scout executive from Syracuse, joined both Reed and Gould in the general discussion. Enthusiasm among students was created.
